

Two ways to put a household on the platform

One codebase, one price per household, no basis points. The fee does not move when the portfolio does. Both tiers include the client and partner portals and the whole record; what separates them is who runs the household and how much of the platform is switched on.

CORE

Financial advisor led

$1,000 / month
per household

+ $1,000 one-time onboarding, per household

The full record, run by the advisor who already owns the relationship.

INCLUDED

- Advisor is the lead on the household
- Client and Partner portal access
- Properties, portfolio and balance history
- Cash flow and projections
- Vault: documents, folders, expiry tracking
- Valuables, tasks, notes and deals
- AI assistant over the household's own record

NOT INCLUDED

- × Scheduled prompts
- × Workflows and obligations
- × Property management service
- × Bill pay service

PREMIER

Titan Expert led

$2,000 / month
per household

+ $2,000 one-time onboarding, per household

Everything in Core, with a named Titan Expert running it and the full platform switched on.

INCLUDED

- Everything in Core
- Named Titan Expert leads the household
- Scheduled prompts and concierge research
- Workflows and obligations, run end to end
- Property management oversight
- Bill pay with a per-period payment register
- Client activity reporting

TIER LIMITS ARE ENFORCED, NOT JUST HIDDEN

A Core household cannot have a workflow, an obligation or a bill-pay instruction written against it by anyone, through any route — the database refuses the write, not just the screen. And a household cannot be moved down a tier while that work is still open, so nothing is ever left on file that no one is watching.

ONE-TIME FIRM ONBOARDING

$50,000

charged once, per firm

Dedicated server space

Your own database and deployment. No shared tenancy, no commingled client data.

Quarterly training

Live sessions for advisors and staff, every quarter, for as long as you are on the platform.

Full white-label

Your name, your palette, your logo and your templates throughout — including client-facing email and PDFs.

Moving between tiers

A household can move up to Premier at any time, effective immediately and pro-rated to the month, with no second onboarding fee. Pricing is per household and never varies with the size of the portfolio.
