Operating Checklists

What must not be missed, at the moment it matters

Internal — TitanOS and PCM staff. Not for circulation.

Seven checklists, one per page, arranged by the moment they are used. Print the one you need and work down it. Each carries a line for the household, the period and who completed it, because a ticked list with no name on it proves nothing afterwards.

These are the companion to the Standard Operating Procedures, which explain how each capability works and why. Where an item here needs more than a line of explanation, the referenced section has it.

Revised 28 July 2026.

Contents

- 1 Onboarding a new household 18 items
- 2 Quarterly statement cycle 9 items
- 3 Starting an obligation cycle 9 items
- 4 Before approving and sending correspondence 12 items
- 5 Monthly book review 7 items
- 6 Data hygiene audit 9 items
- 7 Removing access 8 items

1. Onboarding a new household

Once, when a household is taken on. Expect it to span more than one sitting.
See sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 8. Standard Operating Procedures.

HOUSEHOLD	COMPLETED BY	DATE
-----------	--------------	------

THE RECORD ITSELF

☐	Household created and the responsible Titan Expert set before anything else is added.
☐	Members added, with dates of birth where they matter for planning.
☐	One member designated PRIMARY with the star.
☐	The primary member has an email address on file.
☐	Professional contacts added: accountant, attorney, banker, insurance broker.
☐	Contacts the household should be able to email themselves are ticked as such.
☐	Counterparties recorded — bankers, trustees, carriers, fund administrators — so correspondence to them is recognised rather than queried.

ASSETS AND OBLIGATIONS

☐	Properties created with loan, tax, insurance, flood and tenancy detail.
☐	A document attached to each property section that should have one.
☐	Property vendors recorded with phone and email.
☐	Portfolio accounts created with institution, type and banker.
☐	Most recent statement filed against each account and a dated balance recorded, so no account reads "no date on this figure".
☐	Valuables recorded and linked to the schedule covering them; anything uninsured is uninsured deliberately, not by omission.
☐	Cash flow events entered, including anything the firm pays on the household's behalf.
☐	Recurring obligations recorded, with their conditional questions answered from the trust document or the client's instruction rather than assumed.

ACCESS

☐	Client portal user created for the household and sign-in confirmed.
☐	Partner grants set for any outside adviser who needs sight of this household.
☐	Signed in as the responsible Expert and confirmed this household appears and no other Expert's client does.

2. Quarterly statement cycle

Every reporting period, per account. The single most repeated task in the platform.

See sections 4 and 7. Standard Operating Procedures.

HOUSEHOLD	ACCOUNT	PERIOD	COMPLETED BY	DATE
-----------	---------	--------	--------------	------

PER ACCOUNT

- ☐ Statement obtained for the period.
- ☐ Filed to the Vault against the account, with the period labelled the way the firm labels it.
- ☐ Proposed closing balance checked against the statement, not accepted on sight.
- ☐ Proposed period end date checked — a wrong date attaches the figure to the wrong quarter.
- ☐ Difference against the previous figure reviewed, and explainable if someone asks.
- ☐ Balance recorded, and the account header now shows a date.

WATCH FOR

- ☐ A consolidated statement covering several accounts: enter each account's own figure. Never the total.
- ☐ A restated statement for a period already recorded: record it and let it replace the earlier figure.
- ☐ Accounts with no statement this period: noted, and the institution chased.

3. Starting an obligation cycle

Each time a recurring commitment comes round.
See section 8. Standard Operating Procedures.

-----------	--------------	------

BEFORE STARTING

- ☐ Playbook read in Resources if this is the first time running it.
- ☐ Counsel has confirmed the lead times for this jurisdiction, on first use of the playbook.
- ☐ Amount and due date verified against the source document, not last year's figures.
- ☐ Reference number and counterparty recorded, since they go on the outbound paperwork.
- ☐ Funding accounts set — where money comes from and where it goes.
- ☐ Conditional questions answered from the trust document or the client's written instruction.

AFTER STARTING

- ☐ Dates reviewed against a real calendar, not just accepted.
- ☐ If the cycle flagged itself at risk, the named slipped step dealt with first, before working through the list.
- ☐ Steps marked not required are genuinely not required for this household.

4. Before approving and sending correspondence

Every single outbound item. No exceptions, including routine ones.
See sections 2 and 9. Standard Operating Procedures.

HOUSEHOLD	COMPLETED BY	DATE
-----------	--------------	------

READ THE DRAFT

- ☐ Read in full. Not skimmed.
- ☐ No square-bracketed placeholders remain anywhere in the body.
- ☐ Every figure matches the source document. Check the document, not the draft's account of it.
- ☐ Policy, account and reference numbers match the record.
- ☐ The genre is right for the recipient — an instruction to a bank should not read like a note to a colleague.

CHECK THE ENVELOPE

- ☐ The To line is a real email address, not a description like "Wire Operations".
- ☐ The recipient is someone the firm holds an address for. If the platform flags it as unrecognised, verify the address independently — not from the document that produced it — before confirming.
- ☐ The household's primary contact is copied, or correctly suppressed because they are the addressee.
- ☐ The attachment is present and is the right document.
- ☐ You are the right person to approve this and have the authority to do so.

AFTER SENDING

- ☐ The step reads Sent and carries a delivery reference.
- ☐ If the send failed, the reason is read and dealt with. The step stays outstanding until it is.

5. Monthly book review

Monthly, per Titan Expert, across their whole book.
See sections 8, 9, 11 and 12. Standard Operating Procedures.

TITAN EXPERT	MONTH	COMPLETED BY	DATE
--------------	-------	--------------	------

THE QUEUE

- ☐ Review queue is empty, or every item in it has an owner and a date.
- ☐ Anything reading "Approved — not sent" has been chased. Approval is not completion.
- ☐ Failed sends investigated rather than left sitting.
- ☐ At-risk cycles addressed.

LOOKING AHEAD

- ☐ Deadlines within the next sixty days reviewed.
- ☐ Obligations due next quarter have their cycles started, or a reason they have not.
- ☐ Scheduled reports ran as expected; any failure read.

6. Data hygiene audit

Quarterly, firm-wide. This is the one that keeps the rest working.
See sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 7 and 14. Standard Operating Procedures.

TITAN EXPERT	MONTH	COMPLETED BY	DATE
--------------	-------	--------------	------

GAPS THAT BREAK THINGS SILENTLY

- ☐ Every household has a designated primary contact with an email address. Without one, correspondence goes out copying nobody.
- ☐ Every Titan Expert's email address sits on the firm's verified sending domain. An address off it cannot send.
- ☐ No portfolio account reads "no date on this figure".
- ☐ No account's most recent balance is more than one reporting period old.
- ☐ Counterparty addresses are current, so sends are not stopped by unrecognised recipients.

QUIETER CHECKS

- ☐ Documents sitting in the Vault's "Other" folder reviewed and recategorised.
- ☐ Valuables still showing "Not scheduled" are deliberately uninsured, and the client knows.
- ☐ Property sections with no document attached chased.
- ☐ Partner grants still appropriate — people change roles and firms.

7. Removing access

When a staff member leaves, a partner relationship ends, or a household departs.

See section 1. Standard Operating Procedures.

HOUSEHOLD	COMPLETED BY	DATE
A STAFF MEMBER OR PARTNER
☐	Role removed or set inactive.
☐	Partner grants revoked household by household.
☐	Their households reassigned to another Expert — this also changes who correspondence is sent from.
☐	Scheduled reports they owned reassigned, or they stop running.
☐	Understood that documents they uploaded remain. Those belong to the household, not the uploader.
A DEPARTING HOUSEHOLD
☐	Active obligation cycles closed or transferred, with a note of where they stand.
☐	Portal access removed.
☐	Records retained per the firm's retention policy rather than deleted on instinct.
